Parents shocked by school failings

AN upper school has been told it must urgently improve after it was rated inadequate by an education watchdog.

Manshead School in Dunstable Road, Caddington, received a damning report from Ofsted inspectors this week after they visited the school on Remembrance Day last year.

According to the regulator, safeguard-ing at the school was 'not effective', tasks in lessons were often 'too easy' or not explained well enough, and some teachers didn't have enough knowledge of their subject to ensure students achieved high grades.

One parent, who asked to remain anonymous, told Luton on Sunday: "My kid goes there and I am just disgusted. I would consider taking them out but I haven't got many options where I live. I couldn't put them in a school where they don't know anyone. I just want it to get to the standard it should be at so I don't have to pull them out.

The report also said teaching in key subjects such as English and science was of a poor standard and there were wide gaps between the achievement of disadvantaged pupils and disabled pupils and their peers. In 2014 Manshead School changed its age range to take pupils aged between 11 and 18 rather than 13 – a decision which some parents think was a mis-

A parent said: "It gave us no choice but to put our children into their school which was already underperforming. It was clearly never a good idea to take on two extra schooling years." Headteacher Jim Parker said: "We are very disappointed with the outcome of the inspection. The school's leadership team and governors have known the outcome of the inspection for a number of weeks and have already implemented a robust action plan to address the points Ofsted has raised.

"We understand that this judgement will be of concern to parents and we will be keeping them informed of the rapid progress that we expect to make.

Railing against the dirty and dilapidated station that lets our town down

THIS is not the first time this newspaper has called for action to bring Luton Railway Station up to scratch – but let's hope it is the

This week, residents, politicians and LoS' reporters have been dishing out a few home truths to Network Rail, Thameslink and, for good measure, the Department for Transport about the state of the station.

The station is not only the first thing you see when you pull into Luton – it is a visitor's last stop in a town which actually has some fantastic shops, pedestrian areas and green spaces to offer. It is the blemish on an rapidly improving landscape.

A smart pedestrian area, trendy cafés improved parking and revamped buildings mean pretty much the only thing letting down the so-called 'Station Quarter', is the station.

Meanwhile ticket prices continue to creep higher and higher. Luton passengers have put up with poor access, chipped paint and leaking shelters long enough.

Now is the time to insist the many promises made by rail bosses over the years were more than just words. That is what Luton wants - and deserves.

Bid for law partnership sparks probe

BY JENNA HUTBER

FORMAL complaints have been made that the head of a council legal department's firm bidding to run a shared service could constitute a conflict of interest.

The interim head of legal at Central Bedfordshire Council (CBC), Quentin Baker, is also a founding director of a law firm which the council has confirmed is the preferred bidder for a shared legal services partnership.

In December plans to pool legal services with other local authorities were announced as part of cost-cutting measures. But the executive unanimously voted to allow the director of corporate services to sign off and agree the exact terms of the shared legal services agreement without councillors' approval.

In a shock u-turn on Tuesday, councillors voted through pro-posals for the executive to approve the appointment of a successful bidder to enter into a legal partnership with the council

Councillor Adam Zerny, who pointed out in December there is a 'real risk' the authority could one day find itself in a legal dispute with the local authorities involved, said: "I am pleased the appropriate steps are being taken to ensure these very serious con-cerns are investigated. It is vital the public can be confident the tendering process has been impartial."

The National Audit Office confirmed it had received a complaint about the issue and had passed information on to auditors Ernst and Young. A spokeswoman for Ernst and Young said: "We have recently been made aware of this matter and will take such steps as is considered appropriate, as part of the 2015-2016 external audit of Central Bedfordshire Council."

Quentin Baker works for the Local Government Shared Service, which is jointly owned by Northamptonshire and Cambridgeshire county councils.

A spokeswoman for CBC said: While we have been working with Quentin Baker as our interim head of legal, he was not involved in the selection process for the shared service provider."

KEECH Hospice has been named Luton Airport's new charity partner for the next two years.

The hospice was chosen following a public vote in which it received the support of more than 12,000 people, including singer Jamie Cullum, McBusted's Harry Judd, golfer Ian Poulter and chef Marco Pierre White

The two-year partnership will aim to raise £50,000 to help Keech care for both children adults across Bedfordshire Hertfordshire and Milton Keynes.

Airport staff are said to be already planning world record attempts, pop-up stores in the terminal and a fire walk to meet the target.

Liz Searle, acting CEO of Keech, said: "We're thrilled and thank everyone who got behind us and voted. Keech needs £14,000 a day to keep the hospice run-ning and continue the great work it does for the community.

"We rely on local sup-port and donations for 70 per cent of our funding.

"As leaders in our field, we want to be able to offer people the care they need, when they need it, where they need it and how they want it.

"More and more of our patients are telling us they want to be able to stay at home with their loved ones for as long as possible.

Breakthrough Therapy Thaws Out Frozen Shoulders... Frozen shoulder is a logical following the normal therapeutic painful condition that affects movement of the shoulder. It typically affects people between the age of 40-60 and is more common in omen. According to the NHS approximately 1 in 20 people will suffer from frozen shoulder. It is also known as adhesive capsulitis or shoulder contracture. If you've ever had frozen shoulder, then you know that the amount of movement in your affected shoulder joint will be reduced. In severe cases, you may almost not be able to move your shoulder at all. It's a very frustrating condition because you look absolutely normal and healthy to anyone that looks at you, but it can be a very debilitating condition. The most common symptoms are pain and stiffness in the shoulder which can disturb your ability to sleep, do normal things like getting a glass out of a cupbo exercise and hobbies can be severely

Getting the right treatment is difficult because it is generally not fully understood why we get frozen shoulders. Very often clinicians will focus all efforts on the shoulder itself logical... right? While this approaches often leads to disappointingly slow resolution of the problem. Typically people with frozen shoulder may get better over a period of 18-24 months. In other cases, symptoms can persist for several years!

Studies suggest that with traditional therapies about 50% of people with frozen shoulder continue to experience symptoms up to seven years after the condition starts

However, with appropriate diagnostic testing and treatment it is possible to shorten the period of disability significantly.

All too often the standard clinical tests ignore a vital potential cause of frozen shoulders and the real cause of the problem may never be

The consequence of being left with a nonspecific diagnosis is that you're left to struggle back to health very, very slowly...

With so many people suffering from this debilitating condition it is vital that you find the best solution; and this is where it can start to get complicated because frozen shoulder can be caused by so many different things. It could be damage to the cartilage or capsule of the shoulder joint, problems with the closely related acromio-clavicular joint, even problems with your ribs underlying the shoulder blade a number of other things

But, perhaps more importantly it could be with your cervical (neck) nerves. These nerves are very vulnerable and when wrong with them they usually also affect the shoulder, arm, hand or fingers combination). This is the potential often remains completely undiagnosed as the cause of frozen shoulder even in cases where it is the sole cause. The key to solving frozen shoulder quickly is to either rule out or confirm nerve damage as primary or secondary cause; if not, you are going to be wasting a lot of your time waiting for it to heal.

Precise diagnosis is available in Bedfordshire.

The Atlas Wellness Centre is your nearby specialist in determining functional problems of the nerve system. Their team of specialists use a combination of advanced technology that is not available anywhere else in Bedfordshire. With it, they can diagnose whether your nerves are the source of your frozen shoulder and find you the very best approach for ending the

Life sentence for stabbing ex-wife

BY CARL MUNGAZI

A MAN who stabbed his ex-wife and her new partner has been jailed for life after being convicted of two counts of attempted murder.

Fatmir Mula, 39, of Newham in London, was also found guilty possessing an offensive weapon following the attack on Elena Melnyk and Nicholas White on July 12 last year.

Luton Crown Court heard how Mula had always told Elena, as their marriage was falling apart, that he would kill her if she left him.

The attack took place at the Purple Contact Centre in Rothsay Road, which is used to facilitate between contact families where rela-tionships between couples have broken down.

The jury was told both Mula and Elena were due at the centre that afternoon.

GUILTY: Fatmir Mula was convicted this week

However, Mula suddenly appeared in the doorway and the centre's manager ushered all the parties out into the corridor, where they went into a kitchen area.

There, he suddenly produced a kitchen knife from a rucksack he had with him and then attacked the couple

The prosecutor told the court that Mr White managed to push his partner out of the way after she had been stabbed once in her armpit, but the defendant then turned his attention towards him, stabbing him twice in the chest and once in the neck.

As a result, he suffered a lacerated liver and deflated lung and, after being rushed to the Luton and Dunstable Hospital, had to be airlifted to Addenbrookes Hospital in Cambridge.

Mula then made off from the centre by climbing out of a window, but was arrested the following day.

Passing sentence, Judge Richard Foster told him: "The very facts of this case lead me to conclude that you pose a signifi-cant risk of inflicting serious harm on others, in particular future partners."

Mula will serve a minimum of 11 years before he can be considered for parole.

In her statement read out in court, Elena said: "I know if he comes out he will be looking for me and finish what he started.

"That burden will be with me for the rest of my life."

CTV picks up crime wave

RAPE, manslaughter and a sexual assault are some of the incidents picked up by CCTV cameras in Dunstable in recent months, it has been revealed.

A breakdown of recorded incidents from July 1 to September 31 last year also show there were two instances of people being spotted with guns.

The data was published in a council document for the Dunstable Joint Committee meeting on Thursday.

The update came from footage recorded from the CCTV control room in Watling House.

The rape incident took place at 5am on July 3 in Grove Gardens. Both the victim and suspect are said to have come from the Club Cookies night-club. In the manslaughter incident a man was attacked by four assailants on August 23 in Court Drive. He died from his injuries in hospital.

In total 76 incidents were recorded and 28 arrests made as a result of the footage.

The report also noted that driving offences and antisocial behaviour 'continued to be a problem' at the skate park and Grove Theatre car

A Central Bedfordshire spokeswoman said there was a 'multi-agency approach' in place to tackle the problem.

When Miss Bailey of Grampian Way, Luton decided to replace her old windows and doors she chose Kingsbourne Windows.

Miss Bailey explains "I wanted a local company with realistic prices, that make their own 'A' rated products with high security multipoint locks. Kingsbourne Windows ticked all the boxes and now After a wonderful and tidy installation i would like to recommend Kingsbourne Windows to all my friends and family".

Simon Barrow, 58, who used to commute into London from his home in Luton until last year said: "It doesn't look great, there are no real facilities there and no disabled access.

"If Luton Town moves to Power Court as is the plan we're going to want to encourage people to use the train station, but in its current state who would want to? It needs tearing down and rebuilding.

"It's a chance to help change the unfair negative reputation the town has."

Bob Graham, a trustee of the Disability Resource Centre, based in Dunstable, said: "Luton Station needs a lot doing to it to make it suitable for disabled people. Getting from one platform to another quickly is almost impossible and some platforms are inaccessible to disabled people. The facility is suitable for able-bodied people to use and the disabled are an afterthought, but it shouldn't be that way."

A spokesman for Thameslink, the main service provider at the station, said: "No-one is more keen than Thameslink to see Luton Station get the improvements it deserves.
"We have been liaising with Network Rail on this and have supported the community's aspirations further by bidding for additional funds from the Department for Transport.

A spokeswoman for Network Rail said: "We support Luton's desire to improve its railway station and we are working with our railway and Government partners on funding and potential options for change.'

It's been a crazy few months tradespeople have struggled for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown ranidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Tom Bliss feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole Cloudy2Clear service the Luton. Dunstable and Stevenage areas and Tom is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success.

'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business steamed up, broken or sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done

Squeezed in

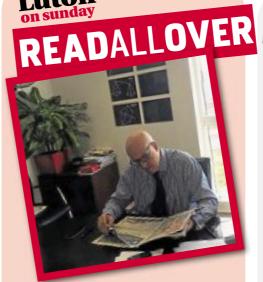

THIS week's dozy parker was spotted at the Tesco store in Skimpot Road.

We can only guess that the driver parked there in a rush before dashing into the store. Let's hope he/ she found what they were looking and did not return for a repeat performance.

If you see any dozy parkers around the area send a picture to: editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

CAUGHT on camera this week is ex-Labour minister and current University of Bedfordshire vice-chancellor Bill Rammell.

Since taking over in 2012 Mr Rammell has made sure he always gets a copy of *Luton on*Sunday delivered to his office so he can catch up on the latest news.

BLOGGER OF THE WEEK: Cllr David Franks

This week David Franks gets to grips with the town's flytipping problem, as well as controversial plans to introduce a new £35 for getting rid of garden waste. And he doesn't forget to look on the bright side of life

THE hot topic this week seems to be litter, fly-tipping and dumped furniture

At least that's the subject which is most often mentioned to me by Luton residents.

Some of the sofas, fridges and matresses dumped in front gardens and on pavements around the town centre are there because a short term tenant of a private rented house moved out leaving rubbish behind.

If the landlord is too mean or too lazy to remove the rubbish then the new tenant will quickly learn that the council is going to charge them £25 to take it away, so it ends up in the front garden or in the street.

The problem is not caused by the £25 charge but sadly the council will not accept that it has got a lot worse since the charge was introduced.

The council's officially approved medium term financial plan includes a new annual charge of £35 for emptying brown garden waste bins starting in April.

We will find out through the coming summer gardening season what effect this will have on the town unless they see sense and drop the plan altogether.

Meanwhile, there's talk of making use of the green recycling wheelie bins 'compulsory

Interestingly, last week Luton on Sunday published comments from people randomly stopped in the street and every one of them spotted the flaw in this plan.

What will the council do about people who just refuse to co-operate?

I wouldn't mind betting that everybody knows at least one household who never use their green bin.

On a more positive note, it's great to see the good works of Park Street based Noah Enterprises recognised with an MBE for chief executive Jim O'Connor in the New Year Honours.

Whatever you think of the Honours system we all have reason to be grateful for the way the Noah organisation helps rough sleepers and people with serious addiction problems to put their lives back together again.

In his typically modest way Jim O'Connor made it clear the Honour recognised the work over many years of staff, volunteers and benefac-

Keep up the good work.

Your Luton Letters

What a load of rubbish!

I HAVE just read the front page (and page 25) piece on Luton Borough Councils plans to fine people for not recycling, I find this to be completely hypocritical.

We recycling as much as we can and regularly fill our green (recycling) bin in about a week. As the green bins are emptied fortnightly, we have to go to our local community centre to get recycling sacks that the council provide. The part I find hypocritical is that these bags are limited to five per household per fortnight.

How can the council say that people aren't recycling as much as they should be, when they are limiting the people that really want to?

Their response was that I should be taking the excess to the recycling centre in Progress Way.

What they don't take into account is that I am disabled and use two crutches, or sometimes a wheelchair. to get about.
On the occasions where I have gone to the recycling centre, I have not been offered any help getting the rub-bish into the relevant bins, which have either high access or they have a flight of steps to access.

It's good that the council is saying it is going into schools and colleges to educate our youth but, has it really done enough to educate the rest of the community about what can go into the recycling bins and what can't? I don't think so.

The council should produce either, for want of a better term, an 'idiot proof' leaflet, or periodically run a full page advert in the local press that everyone can understand. Also from my point of view, it would help to have the bin emptied more frequently, especially during the winter months when the brown (garden waste) bins are not being used as much as the summer months. For example, the brown bins could be emptied the first week of the month, then the green bins emptied the rest of the month alongside the black bins. Alternatively, don't restrict the recycling bags.

When the council has provided people with the right information and got rid of the restricted bag scheme, I wouldn't have a problem with the fines. But with the restrictions, if the council ever tries to fine me for not recycling everything I could, I would seek legal action against them.

Trust more in our force

I note with interest John Tucker's letter (LoS, 10.1.16) in which he says that not only does he not trust the police but also that he would not want any of his children to join the police ser-

Firstly, I am pleased that he respects the ordinary copper on the frontline. These men and women, who I am proud to represent, do, as he says, put their lives on the line as they go about the job they joined up to do – fighting and preventing crime, keeping order, and tackling anti-social behaviour. But I do take exception with his view that the police are not run for public safety. Thankfully, his view goes against the national trend. Jim Mallen

Strike doctors' fear for a 'weaker NHS'

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

JUNIOR doctors went on strike this week over a contract dispute with the government.

Some appointments at the Luton & Dunstable Hospital had to be rescheduled on Tuesday following the walkout but most of surgical produces were unaffected.

Dr Abu Abioye, a junior doctor at the L&D, said he and his colleagues had taken action because they felt the contract offer was 'completely unsafe and unfair'.

Talks between the ministers and the doctors broke down in 2014 but the dispute escalated last summer after the British Medical Association said it felt safeguards on excessive working hours were being weakened. Dr Abioye added: "We are not looking for Dr Abioye added: "We are not looking for more money - we do not like the idea that our value is not being recognised. Many doctors are going to other countries were they feel more valued so in the end it means that we are going to have a weaker NHS."

Health Secretary Jeremy Hunt said the government's priority was 'patient safety and making sure that the NHS delivers high-quality care seven days week'.

- 5 EWT professional installation
- 6 15 Year Parts Guarantee
- 7 30-Day Money Back Guarantee

Package also includes:

- Free System Monitoring
- Ultimate Customer Experience
- Online videos

HE cost of limescale damage on your home appliances can be huge, not to mention the effects on your family's wellbeing. Take advantage of this exclusive EWT Package Offer and remove limescale from your home forever!

Each year the average hardwater home will use water containing 154lbs (70kg) of scale. This mountain of limescale can cause serious – and expensive – damage to your home plumbing and appliances, and your kitchen and bathroom fittings, too. The Carbon Trust estimates that just 1mm of limescale in pipes can increase your home energy consumption by 7%, representing a significant cost to the average family home.

Your household plumbing becomes increasingly inefficient, which makes heating your water expensive. For example, a boiler with just 5mm of scale takes an extra 4 hours to supply the average home's hot water – 90 minutes is all it should take!

The good news is that limescale can be permanently removed from your home quickly and easily, using a system that can pay for itself in the first 18 months. After that, the significant savings are yours to keep... year after year!

This 'best value' EWT Package provides everything you need to start making real, instant savings in your household budget and extends the life expectancy of those expensive home appliances.

Trader facing prison

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MARKET trader has been told he faces a substantial period in prison after he pleaded guilty to selling counterfeit DVDs and CDs, earning him up to £1 million.

Andrew Thornton, 33, of Ibsen Walk, Corby, Northamptonshire, pleaded guilty to run-ning a fraudulent business on Bovingdon Marketin Hertfordshire between 1 September 2011 and 30 June 2014.

A raid had been carried out on 25 July 2012 at Waleys Close in Luton, where Thornton was living at the time.

Further raids were conducted at Penhill in

Up the wooden hill to Bedfordshire

Luton and a commercial storage unit in Porz Avenue, Dunstable, Prosecutor Andrew Johnson did not open the case at St Albans Crown Court on Monday, but he told Judge Marie Catterson that the estimated profit generated by Thornton from his illicit activities is believed to be in excess of £1 million.

Alex Britton, defending Thornton, asked for a pre-sentence report to be prepared.

Judge Catterson agreed that the report should be prepared.

She also warned Thornton that: "It is very likely that you will be sentenced to a substantial period of custody."

Thornton's sentencing has been set for February 12.

Did You Suffer From Nerve Pain In 2015?

Isn't 2016 the year to finally do something about it?

Your nerve system is involved in everything to controlling your muscles and sensing heat and cold. Because your nerve system is so your body does, from regulating your breathing involuntary or partially voluntary activities of your body, including heart rate, blood pressure, digestion, and temperature regulation. 2. Motor nerves. These nerves control

1. Autonomic nerves. These nerves control the

There are three types of nerves in the body:

your movements and actions by passing information from your brain and spinal cord to your muscles.

3. Sensory nerves. These nerves relay information from your skin and muscles back to your spinal cord and brain. The information is then processed to let you feel pain and other sensations

Because nerves are essential to all you do, nerve pain and damage can seriously affect your quality of life.

What Are the Symptoms of Nerve Pain and Nerve Damage?

With nerve damage there can be a wide array of symptoms. Which ones you may have depends on the location and type of nerves that are affected. Damage can occur to nerves in your brain and spinal cord. It can also occur in the peripheral nerves, which are located throughout the rest of your body.

Autonomic nerve damage may produce the following symptoms:

- Too much sweating or too little sweating
- Lightheadedness
- Dry eyes and mouth
- Constipation
- · Bladder dysfunction
- Sexual dysfunction

Damage to motor nerves may produce the following symptoms:

- Muscle atrophy
- Twitching, also known as fasciculation
- Paralysis

Sensory nerve damage may produce the following symptoms:

- Pain
- Sensitivity
- Numbness
- Tingling or prickling
- Burning
- Problems with positional awareness

In some instances, people with nerve damage will have symptoms that indicate damage to two, or even three, different types of nerves. For instance, you might experience weakness and burning of your legs at the same time. To further complicate matters we don't all develop the same way and different un-expected nerves can cause similar problems. This has made it very difficult to diagnose disorders caused by nerve damage based on which nerve "should" cause what.

That is, until now..

Recent advances in technology that detects nerve damage has led to more precise diagnosis for those people suffering with nerve damage disorders.

And more precise diagnosis leads to better results... results which have been published in major medical journals. With data published in 2014 showing success rates as high as 90% some back surgeons are recommending their patients try this treatment first before having back surgery (for nerve damage that leads to back pain and sciatica).

In Bedfordshire, you can get your body scanned for nerve damage the Atlas Wellness Centre.

TREET drinking is a problem which affects many towns in the UK and Luton is no exception.

From groups drinking at all hours in places such as St George's Square to the antisocial behaviour associated with such issues, it is a prob-lem which negatively affects businesses and residents. Last month a report published by Luton Borough Council identified 242 people said to be 'engaging in street culture activities', which include street drinking, begging and rough sleeping. The figures came from a study in 2014/15 by the Luton Drug and Alcohol Partnership. It was sparked by an increase in street drink-ing around the town, including what locals described as a '24-hour drinking camp' which sprang up in Vicarage Street in 2014.

The council says it is taking steps to tackle the problem. Tim Archbold, programme manager for drugs and alco-hol, explained: "We found that 163 of the people identified were known to the NOAH charity as they had complex

"The remaining people tended to be Eastern Europeans doing zero-hour contracts and instead of going home after work they would be going to the town centre for a drink but claiming not to have a problem with alcohol.

were drinking strong alcohol and there was also an issue with drugs. We were also able to identify the hotspot areas where they bought the alcohol."

The council's ability to iden-tify hotspot areas has helped officers do things like granting alcohol licences with conditions stop stores from selling alcohol above a certain strength. Mr Archbold added: "What we are now proposing is a package of measures and they have to be implemented in partnership, so we're talking things like having an out-reach team.

"We are also introducing a new service so we can have a helicopter view of the treatment and make sure there are no blockages in the system. Since the study began Mr Archbold said the number of street drinking complaints received by the council has gone down. This decline has been noticed by businesses.

Bashir Dalvi, manager at the Galaxy Centre, said: "It has got better and we do not see as many as we did in the past but you have try to make sure the local shops do not sell their alcohol to people they know are street drinkers.

"But it is hard because it is their business and they have to make money.

Hostel will only be for town residents

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsundav.co.u

A NEW 78-bed YMCA hostel in a town centre will only house people who can prove they have links to the local area, a council has said.

The hostel, in King Street, Luton, will house single 16 to 65-year-olds in need of housing provided they can 'prove they have local connections', according to Luton Borough Council. YMCA Bedfordshire has converted the Midland House office block which previously had been earmarked for student flats.

Councillor Tom Shaw said the town's night shelter was 'full every night of the week' and more accommodation was needed for single people and families.

and families.

He said: "There is a planning condition on the hostel that says it has to be for Luton people.

"There is a need in the town, no doubt. We have all sorts of similar organisations already and they are nearly full all the time full all the time.

"As long as they can work with the other organisations we will have no problem with it at all."

Last August the YMCA said it hoped the new hostel would help tackle the problem of 'roughsleeping and sofa surfing' by people with nowhere to stay.

It's all 'appening' with school group

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

FIVE high school students who won a national app contest will debut their creation in London next month.

The group, from Denbigh High School, will launch their product at Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park on February 4 after they were chosen as one of seven winners in the Apps for Good Awards 2015.

Good Awards 2015.

Their 'weKonnekt' app is designed to support young carers in the UK, giving them access to others so they can communicate and share advice. It won the 'People's Choice' award category and the team has spent the past few months working with app development firm Gourmet Pixel to build a prototype.

Hasan Abbas, a year 10 student said: "By far the best thing about Apps for Good was seeing our app grow and develop into something that can change lives for the better."

Team member Itesham Hussain, added: "Our small vision to change lives has now become a reality with the help of Apps for Good and Denbigh High School."

COMEDY

You're Welcome to Stade's show

THIS brand new show comes from one of the UK's favourite resident foreign comedians.

Originally from Canada, Tom Stade has made a name for himself over the pond and has been performing to sell out crowds and even earned rave rewards from comics such as John Bishop.

His new tour, titled 'You're Welcome' is in the midst of a 60 plus date tour which finishes in May, with six dates at London's Leicester Square Theatre in April

Candid and alluring, join Tom as he rumi nates on oddities and rev els in his own perpetcomings Expect flair;

uncompromising humour, insatiable mischief and inspired improv isation

While he is effectively 'one of us,' having spend a decade living on British shores, he's still equally bewildered and fascinated by some facets of British culture, namely our day time tv shows, which get a grilling on this latest tour.

The 45-year-old is also a veteran of the Edinburgh Festival, his adopted home-town where he lives with his wife and two children, and has recently sold out at the festival before taking his show on the road

Outside of solo stand up shows, he appeared on TV shows such as Live At The Apollo, Michael McIntyre's Comedy Roadshow and Mock The Week, increasing his ever expanding audi-

Movie magic for the whole family

THIS coming Saturday there's a trio of films on at The Grove with something bound to appeal to everyone.

First off is one for the kids with the critically acclaimed Hotel Transylvania 2 coming to the silver screen.

Dracula (Adam Sandler) has opened the Hotel Transylvania's doors to humans, things are changing for the better.

However, Drac is secretly worried that his half-human grandson, Dennis, isn't showing his vampire side.

So, Drac enlists his friends to help him put the boy through a "monster-in-training" boot camp

But things get out of control when Drac's cantankerous, old-school dad (Mel Brooks) pays an unexpected visit.

The screening starts at 11am Next up is the biopic of one of the most influential figures in recent decades, with

Michael Fassbender starring in Steve Jobs. This film takes us behind the scenes of the digital revolution, to paint a portrait of the man at its epicentre, whose achievements have arguably been more appreciated since his death in 2011 than when he

The story unfolds backstage at three iconic product launches, ending in 1998 with the unveiling of the iMac, tackling not only the technological and business battles which Jobs faced in his career, but also on his personal life.

While not a massive commercial success, the film was a critical success and landed itself on many 'Best of 2015' lists.

One not to miss for any film buffs out

The screening starts at 1.30pm.

Last, we have Brooklyn.

An Irish immigrant lands in 1950s New York, where she quickly falls into a nev romance. When her past catches up with her, however, she must choose between two countries and the lives that exist

The film stars Saoirse Ronan, Emory Cohen and Domhnall Gleeson.
The screening starts at 4.30pm.

Standard tickets for each show are £7, with £2 off for concessions and wheelchair users, while Friends of the Grove get two-

MUSIC and gardening are two things Alan Titchmarsh is well known for and he will be bringing that combination to the Luton Library Theatre next month

With pianist Richard Sisson playing by his side. Alan will share his expertise and love for all things horticultural with readings from his own writings and oth-

The ex-Gardener's World and Ground Force presenter has written numerous books dedicated to the art of green fingered exploits, including the popular How to be a Gardener book series.

Alan's love of the garden started in Ilkley Moor, Yorkshire, where he was born and brought up.

By the age of ten he was growing things in his parents' back garden and at 15 he left school to become an apprentice gardener in the local nursery, before going into full-time training at horticultural college and the Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew.

His musical endeavours have led to him hosting his own radio show on Classic FM on Saturday mornings and presenting with the City of Birmingham Symphony Orchestra, the Birmingham Royal Ballet, and the BBC Proms.

As Luton Music Club's programme planner, Richard Sisson is responsible for organising shows and bringing artists to the town.

He has composed much music for the theatre and provided scores for West End productions of Nicholas Wright's Cressida with Sir Michael Gambon for The Almeida and Alan Bennett's The Lady in the Van, with Dame Maggie Smith.

Some of his recent concert work includes a chamber piece commissioned for members of The Britten Sinfonia as part of the Arts Council's Year of the Artist initiative, and a piece for the international percussion virtuoso Colin Currie, as part of an education project.

The music club's 70-year history makes it one of the town's longest running entertainment clubs.

Richard said: "We feel like our performances are available and relevant to everyone, some people just need a reminder that we're here. For the last two seasons we've seen an increase in the number of young people coming along to our shows

"It's hard to engage people in classical music, but I feel we're doing well and we feel this will keep improving if we keep putting on high quality events.'

He added: "Alan is really quite passionate about music and we're really looking forward to hearing him talk.

"We also hope that Alan coming will bring some unfamiliar faces through the London is calling!

Friday saw the opening of an estate agent with a really unique twist. Venture Residential, based out of Leagrave train station are focusing on London buyers that are flooding to Luton and paying great prices to live in our fantastic town. A team with 40 years combined experience make a bold claim, to achieve, the best price possible for your home. Director Bhavin Thakrar said "Venture Residential have statically located at Leagrave Station to focus on London commuters because they often pay more for the spacious and family friendly homes of Luton, we are here to achieve the highest possible price for our vendors and we are doing it time and time again". The companies moto really is simple, it is the place where "London buyers buy".

What a lark! Hit TV series was penned in this cottage ostume drama fans were bereft when the BBC decided to drop its popular series, Lark Rise to Candleford a few years ago.

The move prompted a THOMPS viewers' revolt, with scores of complaints and online campaigns to get the show recommissioned. The Beeb blamed screenwriter Bill Gallagher's decision to leave as the reason for pulling the plug after series four in 2011, with then BBC One controller Danny Cohen insisting the time was right to make room for new dramas.

Lark Rise to Candleford, set in the small Oxfordshire hamlet of Lark Rise and the wealthier neighbouring market town of Candleford, starred Olivia

Hallinan, Dawn
French and Julia Sawalha, and chronicled the daily lives of farm workers, craftsmen, and gentry towards the end of the 19th century. It was based on a trilogy of

semi-autobiographical novels by Flora Thompson, published in the 1940s.

The novelist and poet was a self-taught writer and post office worker, and lived here at this property in Brixham, Devon, between 1940 and 1947.

Dating from 1728, the detached five-bedroom house with a secluded garden is a few minutes' walk from the town centre and has stacks of

It's a happy new year for sellers

IF YOU'RE about to put your property on the market then it looks set to be the best time to do it, according to the latest research by the Halifax.

Its figures suggest that buyers outnumber sellers and it's driving up prices across the UK as supply is outstripped by demand. The situation is worse in the south, and Greater London saw the biggest fall in house sales during the first eight months of 2015 (down 14 per cent) compared to the same period the previous year.

But Salford experienced the biggest rise, up 23 per cent, possibly benefiting from the defection of the BBC and other broadcasters to its waterfront MediaCitvUK development.

Pontefract in West Yorkshire is another property hotspot, where house sales have risen by 20 per cent. In fact, all 10 towns with the biggest sales hikes are outside southern England.

Market Rasen in Lincolnshire had the biggest fall in sales – a 30 per cent drop, and bank bosses

PROPERTY HOTSPOTS: A four bedroom house for sale in Pontefract for £250,000 via william h brown, 01977 791406 are attributing the turnaround to a shortage of properties as well as rising house prices in southern regions.

The number of home sales across the country were 8 per cent lower than in the same period in 2014, according to the research based on Land Registry figures. Most towns (82 per cent) had a fall in sales – in stark contrast to 2014 when nearly all of them (97 per cent) had sales increase

However, those areas which fared worst didn't necessarily have a drop off in prices, with average cost of homes in the capital increasing by £55,095.

Craig McKinlay, mortgages director at Halifax, said: "There remain substantial local variations in housing activity with a small number of towns recording significant increases. These towns are largely in the north and are where prices are relatively low."

200 homes a day trip over £1m mark

LONDONERS might own swanky homes, but the crazy housing market is now creating property millionaires all over the country.

The East of England and Yorkshire and The Humber had the largest rise in the sale of million-pound properties last year, up 28 per cent and 24 per cent respectively, according to new figures.

The capital's continued gentrification means that more than one in 10 London homes are now worth more than six figures. The London boroughs with the newest millionaires are in Barking and Dagenham, Newham, Waltham Forest, and Redbridge, which were once unloved parts of the city. However, the ripple-out effect of surging prices in other already-expensive parts of London, along with the Olympic effect, have pushed property values to record highs.

At the other end of the spectrum, Wales has the fewest million pound properties in Britain with only 1,404—despite, a significant 11 per cent rise since last January. Scotland was the only region to see a fall in the number of million pound homes in 2015, dropping 4.5 per cent to below 9,000.

The research, by property portal Zoopla, shows that 75,796 new British property millionaires were created in 2015 – that's a staggering 200 per day. This 14 per cent rise takes the total to 622,939, and means 2.2 per cent of all homeowners have a property worth £1 million or more. This three-bedroom townhouse in central Bath (above) a year ago would have fetched between £925,000 and £950,000 according to its agent Savills. The Grade I listed property, in Cavendish Place, is now for sale at £1m and has been extensively refurbished

THE BOROUGH OF LUTON (ASHCROFT ROAD) (TEMPORARY ROAD CLOSURES) (NO.) ORDER 2016

NOTICE is hereby given that Luton Borough Council, the Highway Authority for the said Borough, intends to make the above Order under the relevant provisions of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 (as amended)

The Order will come into operation on 15th February 2016 for a period of 18 months or when the proposed works have been completed. Specific times and dates will be signed locally. The Order will therefore be in operation when signs

The effect of the Order will allow the Council to temporarily close to traffic the roads and lengths of roads in the Schedule below. The Order is intended to create a window for the works to be done and it is anticipated that the works will be completed over a period within the dates described in the Schedule below unless such works are delayed due to unforeseen circumstances.

The Order will also provide for waiting restrictions to apply in theroad for the period of the closure. This will be in force when cones are displayed. Vehicles will be prohibited from accessing and parking on the road with exception to vehicles used by the emergency services and vehicles being used in connection with the works.

The purpose of the Order is to enable drainage works including a new connection to Thames Water surface main to be carried out.

Access will be maintained as best as possible to properties where this may be done safely and diversions for traffic will be marked by signs

Ford gives its sophisticated new SUV a definite edge

The all-new upscale Ford Edge enters the UK's surging SUV mar-ket priced from £29,995. This sophisticated new SUV from Ford – arriving in Ford dealerships this summer – offers class-leading space for up to five passengers, segment-first technologies and refinement to rival premium competitors. It joins the increasingly popular Ford Kuga 'family-sized' SUV and EcoSport compact SUV to complete Ford's three-car SUV line-up. Available in Zetec, Titanium and Sport series, the all-new Edge is well-equipped as standard, offering Ford intelligent all-wheel drive, Active Noise Control, Pedestrian Detection, Ford DAB Audio with SYNC 2 connectivity system, privacy glass and 19in alloy wheels. The flagship SUV is offered with a choice of 10 exterior colours including new Electric Spice and Bronze Fire, and is available with a wide range of interior leather trim options.

The Ford Edge exterior is care fully sculpted and athletic with strong 'shoulders' and a muscular. more compact bonnet. To improve efficiency, unique air curtains are positioned on the lower part of the fascia to guide air from the front of the vehicle, out through the front wheel wells and down the vehicle side.

The interior has been designed with high-quality materials throughout, including soft-touch trims on the dashboard and cen-tre console, high-gloss piano black surrounds on the switch bezels and a satin silver metal finish for the door handles, air vent bezels, glovebox trim and steering wheel detailing. The spacious Edge is also offered with heated and cooled front seats and heated rear seats from the Titanium series.

The Edge will be offered in the UK with a choice of 180PS 2.0-litre TDCi diesel engine with six-speed manual transmission, or 210PS bi-turbo 2.0 litre TDCi diesel with six-speed PowerShift automatic transmission. Both powertrains will aim to deliver 48.7mpg fuel efficiency and 149g/km CO2 supported by Auto-Start-Stop tech-

All-new Edge will offer new Ford technologies, including Adaptive Steering, which automatically optimises the steering response according to vehicle speed, making it easy to manoeuvre at low speeds, while remaining precise and intuitive at higher speeds; and Front Wide View Camera which makes restricted visibility junctions or parking spaces easier to negotiate.

Edge debuts segment-first Pre-Collision Assist with Pedestrian Detection: a camera- and radarbased system that can operate at speeds from 5mph to 110mph to detect vehicles and people in the road ahead. The system can auto-matically apply the brakes if a potential collision is detected and the driver does not respond to

The Edge will also feature Ford's Intelligent All-Wheel Drive (AWD) technology as standard, delivering a seamless transition between front-wheel drive and all-wheel drive performance to provide a more secure footing on the road especially in slippery conditions.

Citroën C4

Take a look inside...

The Citroën C4 works smarter rather than harder this time round, with a styling refresh, some super-economical engines slotted into the range and an interior that nudges its way quite markedly upmarket. If you're not afraid of thinking outside the box a little, this is a car that earns an easy recommendation.

Ćitroën has introduced some innovative three-cylinder 1.2-litre petrol engines that wear a Pure Tech badge. The fastest of these offers 130PS, skittling the C4 to 62mph from rest in just 10.8 seconds, which is quicker than the 1.6-litre BlueHDi 100 diesel alternative. The Puretech 130 unit will keep at it until it runs out of answers at 124mph, so despite buying a small engine. you're certainly not choosing a weak one.

There are also a trio of diesels that are well worth considering. The BlueHDi 100 and 120 engines with a capacity of 1.6-litres deliver maximum power of, respectively, 99PS at 3,750rpm and 120PS at 3,500rpm. The torque at 1,750rpm is 254Nm for the BlueHDi 100 manual unit and 300Nm for the BlueHDi 120 S&S with a 6-speed manual 'box. If that's not enough, then there's also a top-of the-range BlueHDi

The C4's silhouette hasn't changed at all with this update but some of the details certainly have. The most obvious changes are the headlight units that now comprise two 3D chromefinish modules on a gloss black background with LEDs adding a distinct light signature.

The car also features chrome chevrons connecting the head-lights and the ribbed bonnet curving into the sides is a neat touch. Moving aft, there are revise rear lights again with the 3D effect. A few more splashes of chrome and some revised alloy wheels and additional colours (including Platinum Grey and Spirit Grey) give the C4 a sharper look.

The introduction of the latest engines has helped to drive down the cost of ownership. The diesels are a case in point, with these engines drastically reducing nitrogen oxide (NOx) emissions as well as shaving another 4% from the CO2 figure.
Go petrol and you'll probably enjoy the I30PS PureTech unit, which manages 58.9mpg and emits just 110g/km. To put that in perspective, the old 110PS 1.6-litre e-HDI engine in the C4 only did Ig/km better and was slower. heavier and noisier.

Kia Motors Introduces New 'Drive Wise' Sub-Brand

Kia Motors has introduced the launch of a new sub-brand, 'DRIVE WISE', to encompass its future Advanced Driver Assistance Systems (ADAS). DRIVE WISE embodies Kia's philosophy to realise intelligently safe vehicles featuring Kia's latest and forthcoming ADAS technologies. Kia recently announced plans to manufacture partially-autonomous cars by 2020, and aims to bring its first fully-autonomous vehicle to market by 2030. Debuting at the 2016 Consumer Electronics Show (CES) in Las Vegas, 6-9 January, Kia's innovative DRIVE WISE technologies are currently under development.

ROLLS-ROYCE MOTOR CARS ANNOUNCES FUTURE DEVELOPMENTS

World Premier Of The Volkswagen BUDD-E

Volkswagen is opening a gateway to the future at the CES in Las Vegas. The time machine: a zero-emission vehicle - the avant-garde BUDD-e minivan. The first model based on an equally new and progressive Volkswagen technology matrix for electric vehicles. The van's range: up to 233 miles (USA/FTP 72) or 533 kilometers (Europe/NEDC). And BUDD-e also has charisma with its iconic design. Touch and gesture control merge seamlessly; switches and buttons are a thing of the past; individual displays blend into large infotainment panels; analogue mirrors are replaced by digital screens. The matrix of these new, interactive infotainment and operating systems gently launches passengers aboard the Volkswagen concept car forward - to the end of the decade.

The future of pure luxury motoring is already taking shape as Rolls-Royce Motor Cars begins testing its new aluminium space-frame architecture which will underpin all future Rolls-Royce model lines. The architecture will arrive in market from early 2018. Engineering mules will be assessed on public roads in various locations around the world. The current testing phase aims to ensure that the new space-frame structure perfectly delivers. Rolls-Royce's trademark 'magic-carpet ride' on a variety of surfaces and that it is resilient to extreme weather conditions. The assessment of the new proprietary architecture is the first stage of a development programme that will see a new generation of Rolls-Royce motor cars become available from early 2018.

All-New Mazda MX-5 Wins

The all-new Mazda MX-5 has been named the winner of the Roadsters and Spiders category in 'The Sunday Times Top 100 Cars'. Judged by the editorial team of the Sunday Times Driving motoring supplement, this annual feature names the top 100 cars on sale. Commenting on the MX-5's win, The Sunday Times Driving said "in a market obsessed by huge power outputs, the MX-5 makes a refreshing change. It produces just 129bhp from its entry-level 1.5-litre have obsessively pared weight road the MX-5 changes direction like a featherweight boxer, revs freely and allows you to use all the power without troubling the traction control."

Fresh, exciting new face of English rugby

FOLLOWING England's disastrous Rugby World Cup campaign, their fans were demanding change, and new head coach Eddie Iones has obliged them with a newlook squad for this year's Six Nations.

Some big names, like Tom Youngs, Geoff Parling and Tom Wood, have been jettisoned and seven uncapped players have been called up into the 33-man group.

Some of those call-ups were no-brainers – something would have been seriously wrong if Saracens' Maro Itoje hadn't been included – and some others took us by surprise.

Northampton Saints prop Paul Hill has only made three starts in the Premiership, but Jones has clearly seen enough in the 20-year-old tighthead to decide his international bow can't be held back. Hill's performance against Leicester Tigers may have made his mind up, and not just for the try he had disal-lowed after a brilliant 50-metre run.

Just when I thought I'd seen one of the greatest tries ever one of the greatest tries ever scored by a prop, Wayne Barnes spoiled the fun by harshly penalising Wood for a high tackle in the build-up. He now looks set to be an under-study in the championship to Dan Cole, a man who knows all about longrange scores as any Bedford Blues fan who witnessed his effort at Waterloo while he was on loan in 2006 will attest.

A sure sign that Jones intends to start afresh is the selection of Ollie Devoto among the centres, ahead of experienced heads like Brad Barritt, Luther Burrell and Billy Twelvetrees, despite not being first-choice at Bath.

We can only hope that there we can only nope that there will now be a more coherent plan of attack through the middle for England after years of indecision.

However, the fact that Henry Cladow Morey Turker years of the control o

Slade and Manu Tuilagi are still to return from injury suggests there may still be more changes to come, even though it's about time Elliott Daly got a look in

The Wasps man has shown he has much more than a monstrous boot on him in the last couple of years and would have been the perfect alternative for Jonathan Joseph at the World Cup. Sam Hill is yet another exciting back to come off the Exeter production line and, whisper it quietly, Jack out openside England have been longing for since Neil Back retired.

Josh Beaumont is the other new face; one of the first things that will probably be said should he get on the field is 'he's a bit quicker than his dad.' He is. Very much so.

Jones' squad includes eight players from England's Junior World Championship-winning teams of 2013 and 2014, which is hopefully a sign of a special group of young players about to blossom.

It's encouraging that England are starting to pay more attention to what is coming through, rather than play it safe with their selections, as they have so frequently in the past.

It also gives Bedford fans the sight of three men who have played for the Blues - Cole, George Kruis and Owen Farrell - representing their

SURPRISE PICK: Northampton's Paul Hill has been called up by Eddie Jones off the back of making just three starts in the Premiership

BOXER Jordan Reynolds has added another title to his fast-growing collection, winning the 2016 King Of The Ring tournament in Sweden. Fighting each day from Friday through Sunday (January 8-10), Jordan won all three of his fights and was voted the winner of the competition, coming top out of 400 boxers. Next up for the 20-year-old Lutonian is representing England against Norway in just over a week, before defending his English middleweight title. He said: "It's been a great start to the year and I want to keep it going. "It shows that all my hard work has paid off."

Miserable Luton are hammered

LUTON'S woes continue in London One North, as this weekend's 69-12 defeat to Ruislip did nothing to help their league position

They were 21 points from safety before today's game with ten games to play and time is running out for the Lutonians.

Luton had lead with five minutes played thanks to a David Hamm try, converted by Rik Hobbs to give the visitors a 7-0 advantage. Three Ruislip tries put them 19-7 ahead; Casimir Abaka crossed the whitewash midway through the first half to reduce the deficit to 19-12 which was as close as Luton would get to their hosts. Ruislip had secured the bonus point fourth try five minutes before the interval, and even had time to run in a fifth to turn around 38-12 ahead. Ruislip ran in a further five tries after the restart to complete the scoring and end a miserable 80 minutes for Luton. Next week's visit to Newlands Road by Old Priorians is surely a 'must win' as the visitors have managed just the one victory on the road this term. In the local derby, Stockwood Park narrowly edged out Dunstablians 13-7 to ensure they have the bragging rights - the Dees have been beaten the last three times they've faced their local rivals, home and away this term and last season's cup final.

"It was a close game, prop-er old-school rugby, not too expansive, but clean and fair, a good game," said Dees' Campbell Haig. Stockwood Park lead 8-0 at half time, through a Stephen Pollock try, who also added a penalty, but it was the Dees who came out for the second half the brighter of the two, and recorded a try of their own, scored by Matthew Amos, converted by Kev Boland to cut Stockwood Park's lead to a single point.

Late pressure from Park saw Michael Powell squeeze over for the decisive score. and so Dees will have to make do with the losing bonus point, and wait until next year for an opportunity for revenge.

FOOTBALL ROUND-UP

IN a reduced fixture schedule, AFC Dunstable ran out 8-0 winners at home to Broxbourne Borough yesterday. The OD's got off to a strong start and were putting pressure on their opponents from the word go.

They almosttook the lead with just 12 minutes gone when BJ Christie was put through on goal, only to fire into the side

The deadlock was broken with 23 min utes gone when Nathan Frater bundled the ball home after a goalmouth scramble.

Christie then assisted Frater's second to put AFC two up at the break.

The hosts came into their own in the second half, with Christie netting a hattrick, Frater rounding off a hattrick of his own and captain Moses Olaleye and substitute Jermaine Hall completing the rout.

The result puts Dunstable in prime position to put pressure on the Spartan South Midlands Premier Division's top side, London Colney, who lost yesterday against Hoddesdon Town.

Dunstable are just four points behind their title rivals with a game in hand. In the Evo Stik Southern Premier League, Dunstable Town's trip to Leamington FC was postponed due to their opponent's FA Trophy replay.

Barton Rovers were due to host Northwood FC at Sharpenhoe Road yesterday, but their clash in the Evo Stik Southern League Division One Central was called off on the day due to a frozen pitch. Both fixtures are to be rearranged.

Lucky break for new boss

LUTON TOWN

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE

MAGNUS Okuonghae said that referee Andrew Madley admit-ted he'd made a mistake as he ruled out a Cambridge goal, which ensured new Luton boss Nathan Jones' life as a manager began with a 0-0 draw. Hatters striker Paul Benson clattered Lewis Page as he delivered a cross to Ben Williamson but the official instantly blew his whistle for the foul even though the forward turned the ball in.

Madley, who had tried to allow attacking teams the advantage throughout, put his head in his hands for a split second as he knew the decision for the foul would have to stand, as Cambridge players protested in

"He actually said to me that he messed up," said Okuonghae, who was one of Town's standout performers, adding: "I said to him, 'I hesitated because I heard the whistle,' and he said, 'all right, that makes me feel a bit better.'

"Hopefully he's not too down about it. I thought he refereed the game quite well."

Alex Lawless admitted it was refreshing to see the referee's reaction to the error, saying: "I think that was probably a better reaction because, on a human level, people can associate with it rather than if he just pretended that he hadn't made a mistake. That infuriates people even more.
"I'm sure Cambridge are going to be raging about it, but they can see it's a human error and I think that was probably better to see than him just ignoring it. It's just a shame for him."

It was a timely break for the Hatters as their attack continued to misfire - it's now four games since Benson's 100th-minute winner against Exeter just before Christmas. Having Danny Green stretchered off, with the the creativity he brings, was also a blow.

Luton had largely restricted
United to long range efforts on their way to a seventh shutout of the season.

Lawless, who was deployed in the centre of midfield, said of Cambridge's disallowed goal: "Rather than that being the goal that decides the game, we come away with a clean sheet, a point and we can build on that with a bit of confidence. It's nice to get the rub of the green, for a change."

LUTON TOWN CAMBRIDGE UNITED

Those Luton fans uninitiated in Motown music will have been introduced to The Supremes' hit 'Nathan Iones' when their new boss arrived. but after his first foray as manager they will have realised that you can't hurry love.

You can, however, offer a few flirtatious glimpses of what this new relationship could be, small as they were. Indeed, Jones had written in his programme notes, 'it's important to understand that the first step in this new chapter will not happen over-

It's fair to say, few people were expecting miracles. After the Hatters' last few dismal outings, a shot on target would've been an improve ment. Against Cambridge, they got two.

A clean sheet would have been high on the agenda? They got that too.

A bit of fight, would have been further improvement. Check.

Some defensive solidity and a clean sheet? Yep. Magnus Okuonghae looked like a new man, to that effect.

Admittedly fans, they just keep you hanging on for goals. It is four games now without any to cheer while, in the luck stakes, I guess you could call this a draw too, but even that's a turn up for the books.

The bad was that Jones saw Mark Tyler (back) and Danny Green (leg) leave the field injured inside the first 25 minutes, but then the good was a huge gaffe from referee Andrew Madley which spared them defeat.

While the record books will show a stalemate, the new boss got slightly more of a tune out of a side that, with just the addition of Green and Jack Marriott, had been so pathetic at Bristol Rovers a fortnight ago.

Most notably, Jones deployed his players in their correct positions. Imagine that.

Yet it was nothing but heartache as he was forced into two early changes. Green, in particular, was stretchered off in some distress and the delays killed the first half atmos-phere. Another dampener came when Marriott had the ball in the net on the half hour mark but was ruled offside.

And moments after Paul Benson had tumbled over the advertising hoardings, leaving medics running to his rescue and Luton fearing for the worst, the striker saw his point blank shot saved by Will Norris -Luton's first on target in more than two hours of football.

Ryan Hall and Josh McQuoid went close in the second half to signal a greater attacking intent from Town, to which the crowd responded – but so did United. Mr Madley rained on their parade.

The official had played the advantage rule to varying degrees of success and Luton got lucky when he instantly pinged Benson for taking out Lewis Page just as he crossed to Ben Williamson, who turned the ball home. The official put his head in his hands for a split second as he in his hands for a split second as he realised his error but the decision had been made and the Hatters had gotten away with it.

Jake Howells almost drilled a late winner but Norris squirmed the ball to safety while, Hatters' hearts were in mouths in the dying moments when Ryan Donaldson's drive slipped through the fingers of goalie Elliot Justham. But there were no tears of sorrow and that's a good thing.

So too, was the Hatters fans recinrocating Jones' applause at the final whistle. But, as to whether it was the first flushes of a love affair, well, you can't hurry that. You'll just have to
